

PHILOSOPHIA CHRISTI

EDITOR'S INTRODUCTION	CRAIG HAZEN	3
ARTICLES
Truth and Truthmakers	WALTER SCHULTZ	7
Rawls and Acceptable Dispositional Standards: A "Livable" Public Space?	JEREMY NEILL	31
Pro-theism and the Added Value of Morally Good Agents	MYRON A. PENNER AND KIRK LOUGHEED	53
Special Divine Acts and the NIODA Project	ROBERT LARMER	71
Some Prolegomena to Any Future Truth Theory in Christian Philosophy	JOSHUA LEE HARRIS	87
Idolatry and the End of Apologetics: On Some Uses and Limitations of Continental Philosophy in Apologetics	BRADLEY N. SEEMAN	105
Paul K. Moser and the End of Christian Apologetics as We Know It	TEDLA G. WOLDEYOHANNES	127
Pharaoh's Magicians Redivivus: A Response to Jerry Walls on Christian Compatibilism	STEVEN B. COWAN AND GREG A. WELTY	151
PHILOSOPHICAL NOTES
On the Metaphysics of Time and Divine Eternality	R. KEITH LOFTIN	177
Public Presuppositions for Christian Apologetics	HUGH G. GAUCH, JR.	189
Miracle Evidence: How Philosophers Go Wrong	JOHN WARWICK MONTGOMERY	199
"I Am My Body?" Physicalism, Identity, and the Metaphysics of the Incarnation	THOMAS H. MCCALL	205
Is Strategic Thinking Desirable in Philosophical Reflection? Honoring Morteza Mutahhari, a Martyr to the Practice of Philosophy without Strategy	CHARLES TALIAFERRO AND THOMAS CHURCHILL	213
BOOK REVIEWS
James Franklin, An Aristotelian Realist Philosophy of Mathematics: Mathematics as the Science of Quantity and Structure	WILLIAM LANE CRAIG	225

Harold A. Netland, Christianity and Religious Diversity: Clarifying Christian Commitments in a Globalizing Age	PAUL D. ADAMS	230
Robert McKim, On Religious Diversity	ERIK BALDWIN	235
Myron Bradley Penner, The End of Apologetics: Christian Witness in a Postmodern Context	TAWA ANDERSON	241
NEWS AND ANNOUNCEMENTS		248

---

Editor's Introduction

I think you will really enjoy some late summer reading in this terrific new issue. I can't find a theme that ties any of these wonderful essays together, so get ready for a veritable rollercoaster ride of reading in Christian philosophy.

We have had a few changes in journal administration to which I'd like to call your attention. First, our long-time managing editor (and multitalented EPS utility man), Joe Gorra, has moved his full-time employment to some much greener pastures. But, thank the Lord, he is staying connected to us as a consulting editor. This is a huge benefit not only because he is a huge knowledge reservoir, but because he is also such a delight to work with on important Kingdom projects. Joe will be at the annual meeting in Atlanta in November so when you see him please pull him aside and thank him for his years of dedicated service.

Second, I'd like to introduce you to our new managing editor, Betty Talbert. She holds graduate degrees in New Testament and in Christian apologetics but perhaps more importantly she was for seventeen years a key editor of a major southern California newspaper. Our publication pace is obviously not nearly as frenetic as a daily paper, but Betty brings the same energy to our work. She has the knowledge and experience in the areas of Christian thought, writing, editing, and publishing to keep things moving forward. Indeed, the issue you have in your hand right now was mostly assembled by Betty.

VERY IMPORTANT NOTE:

Late summer is not the time that you might usually think about special charitable giving, but I do hope you can shift gears. Two donors have put on the table a challenge grant to help us raise up to $50,000 for the EPS. The donors will match dollar for dollar the funds that we are able to raise through our members and friends. Please help us all bring in the money we need to secure our current operation and to reach new goals!

To give generously right now, please go to www.epsociety.org/support.

On behalf of the entire membership, thank you in advance for your generous help!

Craig J. Hazen
Biola University